

An Early Intervention Project of the Coweta Community Foundation, Inc.

Stepping Stones promotes the initial parenting skills needed to prepare children for successful beginnings.

STEPPING STONES is an early intervention program driven by teams of volunteer educators from the Coweta County School System. These volunteer educators visit with new mothers and present a bag of school readiness materials. These materials will help parents prepare their baby for a successful beginning.

Each bag of readiness materials presented to the parent contains:

- ◆ Our New Baby Calendar
- ◆ Great Beginnings Parent Handbook
- ◆ Better Brains For Babies Developmental Chart (Birth—5 years)
- ◆ A Baby Storybook
- ◆ FERST Foundation For Childhood Literacy Registration Form
- ◆ Information from various community groups and agencies

GOALS

- ◆ To provide development readiness materials and information to parents.
- ◆ To reinforce the skills and strengths needed for quality parenting.
- ◆ To increase awareness of available community resources.
- ◆ To reduce child abuse and neglect by offering personal support and by reducing feelings of isolation in new parents.
- ◆ To identify at-risk families and make referrals to appropriate support services

The Stepping Stones Educators are eager to assist you with the initial parenting skills your child needs for successful beginnings.
